Hello Kees,

I am so pleased to hear you can come to NWAV in Toronto! It will be a landmark event in the history of NWAV conference and Benjamins is one of our major publishers of our discipline, so your presence will make a big difference! (I'm afraid we won't have a fabulous wine tour as we had in Germany. But if you can stay an extra day, the Niagara wineries are beautiful and there are day trips from Toronto)

As for the Benjamins book display, I hope you will bring the same wonderful selection of books that you had at ICAME and be sure that the books of our delegates are prominently displayed. I will be sure to send you a copy of our program as soon as it is available.

I am copying in our Treasurer (Anne-José Villeneuve who will be attending to financial affairs).

See you in October!

Sali

Dear Sali,

My apologies for not answering sooner, but I have good news for you. I managed to change my itineraries for the the fall and will be able to attend NWAV in person with a book display. So you can note John Benjamins down for the publisher's display. We will also place an ad in the conference booklet. My colleague Seline Benjamins will organize this. I cc her to this message. I will make further arrangements soon for the trip to Toronto.

With best wishes,
Kees

Hello Case,

It was really good to meet you in person at ICAME 36. Your table of books was quite impressive with a nice offer of discounts to delegates.

I am writing to encourage to offer a similar display to highlight the John Benjamins line at NWAV 44 in Toronto, October 22-25.

We have done everything we can to make the NWAV 44 venue ideal for publishers. See for yourself in the presentation and information document attached!

I'd like to see Benjamins front and centre at the conference. You are one of the main publishers for our delegates whether in journals, books or book series. It would be great to publicize your important contributions to our field at this milestone conference in Toronto. It would be great to have you here!

Please contact me and let me know what arrangements would best suit John Benjamins! I can also be reached by phone at: 1 416 822 3428.
